OVERVIEW

Beihang University, formerly known as Beijing University of Aeronautics and Astronautics (BUAA), founded in 1952, is a top-class science and engineering research and education institution in China. This university has played a leading role in many academic fields, such as computer science, electronics, electrical engineering and systems engineering.

Beihang International Summer School is an important window for international exchange, providing the unique opportunity for undergraduates worldwide to study and work together for new knowledge, experience and insights.

Last year, we successfully held the International Summer School 2016. More than 280 foreign college students participated in this four-week program.

In 2017, we would invite even more teachers from Beihang and other well-known universities in the world, and approx. More than 80 full English courses will be offered from 3 July to 28 July, 2017. A preview of the course options is available on our official website:
